CREDITABLE EXHIBIT BY CHILDREN OF THE PRIMARY GRADES

Many Parents Inspect Work of the Pupils in Miss Bihler's Room. Children Have Been Diligent

Miss Mary Louise Bihler, teacher of the primary department in the Wrangell public school, gave an exhibit of the children's work in her room last Friday afternoon.

The Sentinel reporter, along with a number of the parents of the children, called to inspect the work. Without the least exaggeration we can say that it was the best exhibit of the kind we have ever seen. The four walls of the room were covered with written exercises, drawings, free hand cuttings, table mats, caps, and various other articles made by the children. There was also a number of 16-page books of drawings, each pupil having his individual book. The drawings were not of the Katzenjammer kid class, but faithful, painstaking representations of different objects. In every instance the drawings were surprisingly good.

A number of miniature hammocks made by the different pupils were all so nearly alike, and the weaving so perfectly done, that they looked more like a factory product than the work of school children.

The school was still in session when the visitors arrived, and it was a pleasure to watch the children in their work. One of the most noticeable things in connection with the pupils and their exhibit was the system and orderliness with which everything was done.

In order to keep the study of books from becoming irksome to the little fellows they are given various forms of diversion, which are fully as profitable as book study in developing the imagination and creating the power of initiative. Everything is done with some end in view. A table read. The children then illustrate it with drawings or free hand cuttings. Another day the children may be asked to illustrate winter, or spring or some industry. One section was pointed out to us where the children had been requested to illustrate the different modes of travel. There were aeroplanes, dog sleds, limousines, railway trains, reindeer sleds, street cars, wheelbarrows, etc.

We came to another section of cuttings in which there was the representation of a distinguished body of men. The man who appeared to be presiding was tall and dignified. We said to Miss Bihler: "You don't need to tell us that this is President Wilson and his cabinet." Miss Bihler replied that the group was a distinguished body all right, but not so far away from home; that it was none other than the Wrangell town council and the other municipal officers.

The pupils whose work was represented in the exhibit were as follows:

FIRST GRADE.—Frederick Cunningham, Charles Abbott Emery, Marion Goodrich, Manuel William Lewis, Manuel Loftus, Ingvold Nore, Leonard Ronning, Raymond Wheeler, Harold Ottesen, Allie Smith, Erna Grant, Glen Matheson, Mary McTague, Dorothy Johnson.

SECOND GRADE.—George Anderson, Harold Anderson, Lennie Engstrom, Wilfred Gartley, Kendall Northrop, Henry Pigg, Joe Prestell, James Waters, James Wheeler, Robert Wagg, Wilhelmina Cunningham, Catherine Matheson, Margaret McCormack, Mary McTague, Gertrude Osborn, Nettie Prescott, Nellie Rheinhardt, Laura Ronning, Gladys Tamaree.

The people of Wrangell, especially those who have small children, will learn with deep regret that Miss Bihler, who has been in charge of the primary department for the past four years, has declined reappointment.

In leaving Wrangell Miss Bihler leaves her impress—an impress for good—on the lives of the children who came under her kindly, patient care. It is an old adage, "As the twig is bent so the tree will grow." And when one considers the vastness of the potentialities wrapped up in childhood he realizes how important it is that the little human twig shall be bent in the right direction. Miss Bihler has surely given the little ones a good start. The influence on their little lives of this

A PATRIOTIC DUTY

Every citizen of Wrangell and surrounding country, and every alien in whose heart there is a spark of patriotism for the land of his adoption, should participate in the observance of Memorial Day in Wrangell next Wednesday, May 30.

Not since the days of Lincoln has there been a time when it was so eminently fitting and proper that we pay suitable tribute to the soldiers of the Civil War—the men who settled with the sword a question of principle over which no other tribunal had jurisdiction.

Memorial Day, which is always filled with sentiment, is this year fraught with deeper meaning than ever before. The fact that our country recently entered into the great war of nations "to fight for the ultimate peace of the world and the liberation of its peoples" has put us in a state of mind to enter whole heartedly into the Memorial observance. This year we can better understand the lessons of the past, and better appreciate the period of peace which we have enjoyed the most of our lives, and which was won by men who were willing to die that the Union might prevail.

Today the thought of "one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all," causes every American worthy of the name to feel a warmer thrill of Americanism, and a desire to pay suitable tribute to our soldier dead—men who measured up to the full stature of American manhood and fulfilled the highest duty of American citizenship by giving to their country the best they had, the best that any man has—their own lives.

Throughout the nation the Memorial Day observance this year will surpass those of other years in interest and meaning. Every resident of Wrangell and the surrounding country should participate in the local ceremonies. Let the day be observed in Wrangell with a true and abiding realization of its essential solemnities.

Two New Boats

(Seattle P.-I.)

E. Bert Fowler, for several years an employee of the Alaska Sanitary Packing Company which operates a cannery at Wrangell left for the north yesterday with two new boats in tow of the Halcyon. He expects to reach the plant in about six days.

The boats are named the Saco and the Alco and measure forty-five feet over all. They were built by Mr. Fowler at Shaw island and represent his first undertaking of the kind. He found help hard to get, but finally succeeded in finishing them. They are powered with 20-horse power engines. Mrs. Fowler will leave shortly by steamer to join her husband at Wrangell.

Power Boat Launched

Chas. Roos' new power boat Carolus was launched from Fletcher's boat shop yesterday. She took to the water like a seal.

kindly, cultured, refined young woman is far reaching, and can not be valued in dollars and cents.

Miss Bihler's leaving is a distinct loss to the school and the community. However, the hope is held out that the school board may be able to induce her to return after she has been "outside" for a year or two.

RECITAL BY MABELLE PARSHALL BURNET WAS A RARE TREAT

Program Covered a Wide Range and Was of a High Order of Artistic Excellence

The benefit recital by Mabelle Parshall Burnet, reader, given under the auspices of the Red Cross at the Redmen's hall last Thursday evening was an event—an event in a class by itself.

There was a large attendance, and not one in the audience who was not keen in his appreciation of the reader's wonderful ability.

The people of Wrangell are indeed fortunate in being able to claim as their own a lady of the professional class—one who has been received with great appreciation wherever she has appeared. Many who were present Thursday evening have paid for high priced tickets to recitals in the States that would not rank with the one given by Mrs. Burnet. She is an artist. Her style and manner of reading are little short of perfection itself. Her graces of intonation and gesture show a complete fusion of thought and feeling with the verbal expression, while her control of the muscles which produce the facial expression is nothing less than marvelous.

The program covered a wide range and every number received hearty applause. The last number was a patriotic recitation, "America," at the close of which Miss Margaret Bronson struck the notes on the piano of "My Country 'tis of Thee," the audience rising and singing the national anthem as the patriotic ending of a patriotic event.

In so unselfishly giving the public the benefit of her art for the Red Cross Mrs. Burnet has doubtless made the greatest individual contribution to that worthy cause that has been made by any one in Alaska.

A unique feature of the recital was the ushers. Four charming young ladies, Misses Florence Billon, Amanda Horgheim, Edna Sinclair, and Irene Coulter, dressed as Red Cross nurses, attended to the ushering in a most creditable manner.

Wireless Station for Craig.

The Sentinel received the following cablegram from Delegate Chas. A. Sulzer:

"War Department gives me assurances that they will build a wireless station at Craig, on the West Coast of Prince of Wales Island. The matter of obtaining equipment, which is scarce because of War needs, may cause some delay, but the station is definitely assured."

Endorses Riggs for Governor

Thomas Riggs, Jr., citizen and resident of the Fourth Division, and member of the Alaska Engineering Commission, has been endorsed for the Governorship of Alaska by Democratic National Committeeman Thomas J. Denohue, since the refusal of Judge Jennings and others to be candidates for the appointment, and the consent of Mr. Riggs to accept the appointment had been obtained.

Such a change would mean that Mr. Riggs would quit a position that pays $10,000 a year and expenses to take one that pays $7,000 a year.

Mr. Denohue accuses Gov. Strong of party treachery for attempting to give former Delegate James Wickersham a certificate of election as Delegate to Congress, which he could not do without ignoring the opinion of Attorney General George Griggsby on questions of legality that came before the canvassing board.

The Soldier in History

Sunday next is Memorial Day Sunday, and the theme at St. Philip's Church will be "The Soldier in History." The Pacifist would abolish the soldier, but do they understand what this would mean?

The soldier has been the great surgeon curing man's badness when he would not listen to other persuasion. All honor then to the soldier.

Veterans, Sons of Veterans and members of the Guard are specially invited.

MEMORIAL DAY TO BE OBSERVED IN WRANGELL

Let no vandalism of avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the coming generations that we have forgotten, as a people, the cost of a free and undivided republic.—GENERAL JOHN A. LOGAN.

Tuesday evening there was a meeting of the citizens at the Redmen's hall to arrange for an observance of Memorial Day in Wrangell.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Matheson who stated the object of the meeting. On motion Mr. Matheson was elected chairman and J. W. Pritchett secretary of the meeting. It was the unanimous will of all present that Wrangell should observe Memorial Day, and that the observance this year should be more pronounced than ever before. The chair appointed the following committee to take charge of the affair: Judge Wm. G. Thomas, L. M. Churchill, F. E. Bronson, George H. Barnes, Capt. J. G. Grant.

Following the adjournment of the meeting the general committee met and appointed sub-committees on program, transportation, decoration, parade, and school children.

It was decided to hold the memorial service at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the Rink and to leave for the cemetery at 7 o'clock in the evening. The committee preferred that the memorial service should be held in the evening instead of the afternoon, but that was not possible owing to the tide being out in the afternoon.

A good program will be furnished consisting of addresses, patriotic songs, etc.

One of the features of the day's observance will be the parades in the afternoon and evening. The parades will not be for the Home Guard alone, but for ALL who will participate.

For the formation of the parade in the afternoon the people will assemble at the Redmen's hall at 2:15 p. m. The parade will form at 2:30 p. m. and march from Redmen's hall to front of the Wrangell hotel, and turn and proceed down Front street to the Rink where they will fall out for exercises in the Rink. For the formation of the parade in the evening the people will assemble at the Redmen's hall at 6:30 p. m. and form to march to the float and embark for the cemetery for exercises.

The Home Guard, the Redmen, and the Boy Scouts will march as organizations. The unattached will include all not included in these organizations. The movements will be simple and easy for all. The ladies are especially urged to participate.

Proper Display of the Flag on Memorial Day

The following clause is from the United States army regulations and indicates the proper use of the American flag on Memorial day:

"On Memorial day, May 30, at all army posts and states the national flag will be displayed at half staff from sunrise till midday, and immediately before noon the band or field music will play some appropriate air, and the national salute of twenty one guns will be fired at 12 m. at all posts and stations provided with artillery. At the conclusion of this memorial tribute at noon the flag will be hoisted to the top of the staff and remain there until sunset."

"When hoisted to the top of the staff the flag will be saluted by playing one or more appropriate patriotic airs. In this way fitting testimonial of respect for the heroic dead and honor to their patriotic devotion will be appropriately rendered."

Will Elect Officers

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Civic Improvement Club will be held tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at the home of Miss Woods. The meeting will be called to order at 2:30 instead of 3 o'clock.

THE HOME GUARD

The government has shown its appreciation of the Home Guards of Alaska by intimating that because of the Home Guards, it deemed it prudent to withdraw the regulars that are stationed in different posts throughout Alaska.

This will set a thousand regular trained soldiers free for the more important service at the front. Does not this emphasize the truth that training with the Home Guards is eminently a patriotic duty?

Do we appreciate what the Home Guards have accomplished already? We have been astonished and grieved because of the unpatriotic, and even traitorous remarks that were made by a few about our country and its flag. There were even whisperings that a rebellion in the States had been planned, and these whisperings came from those who would probably have known, had such been planned.

Now, how different it is. The enthusiasm called forth by the patriotic parade where even a number of ladies took part, and the very large number of boys determined men, who volunteered for the Home Guard, seemed to put the fear of the country in the minds of the would be traitors. At least, they are very patriotically quiet.

It is, however, easy to start a movement, but it is another matter to keep it going. The work of the Home Guard has just been begun. It takes training to make a crowd effective. Soldiers who are of any use even for a Home Guard, must be trained. So let every Home Guard member drill, drill, drill. Do not feel that one drill can be omitted.

We were all delighted with the Red Cross entertainment, and with the Red Cross nurses who acted as ushers. They can assist in this matter. Let them use their influence toward getting out all that they can do the drills on Monday and Thursday nights. The ladies know how. Let them help to give Wrangell the honor of having the best company of Home Guards in Alaska.

MEMORIAL DAY SENTIMENT

Monuments perish, and their dust is blown upon the "broad bosomed air," but sentiment lives forever. The magnificent material of Greece tumbled away, but her fancies are alive. Strife, battle, bitterness, are forgotten; love is eternal, and glory lies in the grave of the valiant.

Yesterday the country was a great commercial giant, conquering new territory. Today it is a sentiment, scattering flowers upon the graves of its heroes.

On the sidewalk, viewing the Memorial day parade, stands an old woman, dim eyed and tottering. Her young heart flutters with the thrill of the scene, and her poor old mind gropes back to a day years ago, when she saw a person, glowing, handsome, proud, marching beneath that same flag. One night a neighbor came and, stammering, told her that he had fallen with the brave, and to her the world was blotted out. She heard the shout of victory as her heart beat low, and, sorrowing, dead years fell upon her, and to God she cried for mercy and for consolation. Today she places a flower upon the grave of a stranger, the son of some other poor old woman, and in her heart she saps:

"It was well. Our loved ones saved the country."

No, of Memorial day you can say nothing new. But of eternal truth and beauty should we expect that anything new should be said? We hear the music, we see the flowers, we inhale the perfume—we know that the country is immortal.—Opie Read.

City Churches Should Be Social Centers and Leaders in Community Life

By ROBERT FULTON CUTTING, Social Worker

EACH city church should be a social center. It should be the place to which any lonely person, young or old, would naturally turn. No church should be contented with providing a center for its own immediate flock. IT SHOULD BE THE INSPIRATION OF ALL COMMUNITY LIFE.

The churches should unite not merely for religious revivals, but for social service.

They should be in the forefront in the fight for decent housing, the extension of playgrounds and municipal recreation centers. They should blaze the way first by individual experiments, and wherever the experiments are proved successful, they should INDUCE THEIR ADOPTION BY THE CITY AS A WHOLE.

But the church should be one thing more. It should be a school for prospective husbands and wives. It should teach definitely and practically the sacred responsibilities of marriage. It should prepare young women in the essentials of domestic science.

IT SHOULD EDUCATE YOUNG MEN IN THE SACREDNESS OF A PURE MARRIAGE RELATION.

Learn to Pack Herring Scotch Style It Costs You Nothing

Herring curing in Alaska, while at present sadly neglected, will with the proper support of the people become one of its leading industries.

The few herring that have been salted were packed principally according to the Norwegian method, and then in many cases in a rather unsatisfactory way, due chiefly to the scarcity of labor and lack of understanding of the trade requirements. Greater attention to the cure and a more uniform system of selecting, salting and packing would greatly reward the curers.

The limited market for the herring prepared in this fashion is the middle west while the real herring market is the east. In New York City upwards of two-hundred thousand barrels of scotch herring are imported each year
besides the regular shipments from Norway, Iceland, Holland and Newfoundland. The bulk of the Scotch herring are consumed by the large Jewish population. These people are exceptionally good judges of quality and insist upon a uniform selection and cure packed in the standard Scotch barrel containing 250 lbs. of herring free of salt when thoroughly cured.

This standard Scotch barrel is now being made for the first time by the Western Cooperage Co., of Seattle at $1.60
each and will shortly make its appearance in Alaska.

The United States Bureau of Fisheries will give free instructions to those desiring to learn the Scotch Method of curing herring. If interested, communicate with Mr. Ernest P. Walker, Inspector Alaska Service, Wrangell, Alaska, who will arrange demonstrations by the Bureau's Special Assistant Mr. Aug. H. D. Klie or other competent curers.

Presbyterian Church

"The Unfolding Of The Age"
is our topic for study Friday evening, at the Presbyterian church.
Read Revelation 1:1-20. And for Sunday evening service, the subject will be "The Government of God." We are in the realm of His government, are we aliens or citizens?

"No craft ever crossed the ocean by hugging the shore; the only way across is pushing out.
When our Lord called His first disciples, He called them to follow Him, and they could not stay
where they were and obey Him.
It is for our sakes the Master bids us choose."

Come and help in the study of this subject.

float the freighter Northland,
which sunk at the Kake cannery wharf last summer. The Georgia was piloted North by Harry Crosby, a member of the wrecking company.

A Beautiful Custom

An English officer viewing the ceremonies of Memorial day turned to a Chicago mayor and thus remarked:

"Not in all Europe is there a ceremony so impressive. Here it is not only a beautiful tribute to brave men, but commemorative of the fact that the country passed through a great crisis and was saved, disproving the world's assertion that a republic could not live. The healing of that breach made America immortal, eternal.
And the sign of this immortality
is a rose bud, tenderly dropped
upon a grave."

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT CLUB ENTERTAINMENT

The annual entertainment and dance by the Civic Improvement Club at the Rink last evening was the biggest event of the week. A pleasing program was rendered. Sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. At 10:30 dancing was begun and kept up far into the night. The ladies went to some trouble to get up the affair and deserve praise for their efforts. The entertainment was a success financially. Between $90 and $100 was realized.

The Day of Memories

BY THEODORE ROOSEVELT

The captains and the armies
who, after long years of dreary campaigning and bloody stubborn fighting, brought to a close the civil war, have left us even more than a reunited realm. The material effect of what they did is shown in the fact that the same flag flies from the great lakes to the Rio Grande, and all the people of the United States are richer because they are one people and not many, because they belong to one great nation and not to a contemptible knot of struggling nationalities.

But besides this, besides the material results of the civil war, we are all, north and south, incalculably richer for its memories.
We are richer for each grim campaign, for each hard fought battle. We are richer for valor displayed alike by those who fought so valiantly for the right and by those who no less valiantly fought for what they deemed the right.
We have in us nobler capacities for what is great and good because of the infinite woe and suffering and because of the splendid ultimate triumph.
